

BABY BACKPACK EMERGENCY KIT

Combine a Kit in One Shopping Trip

I have this need to make sure I can take care of my babies during an emergency so I've always had kits in some form around. I've never had to use them in a real emergency (thankfully) just inconveniences. Now my kids are having kids and I still have that need, but for them. This kit was put together for my grandson and given on his first birthday. (I know, what a fun grandma.) Somehow it just makes me feel good knowing he'd have some basic needs met.

INFANT EMERGENCY KIT CONTENTS

- gold fish
- reflective belt
- diapers & pads
- bottled water
- formula packets
- bottle
- permanent marker
- tissues & wipes
- hard candy
- zip lock bags
- trash bags
- activity book

- baby lotion
- baby powder
- baby shampoo
- cotton swabs
- triple ointment
- band-aids
- multi vitamins
- infant tylenol
- rash cream
- floss pics
- antibacterial gel
- blanket & towel

BABY BACKPACK EMERGENCY KIT

Personalize Your Pack

Add your name to the pack for easy identification using a stencil and permanent marker.

Actually you can write anything you like on the backpack, such as directions, phone numbers, first aid, etc.

Or maybe a note of encouragement and love can be shared.

Directions

Use masking tape as a guide for the stencil. Hold stencil in place and fill in desired letter. Using a new marker will make the letters bleed (see middle left image) To avoid this, use an older marker.

Place a little surprise message on the bottom of the backpack.

Supplies

- backpack
- pouch
- stencil
- permanent marker
- masking tape

